Coming Attractions At the Grand

BUSTER BROWN'S
HOLIDAY.

The new Grand announces for Wednesday night, Sept. 19, the cartoon comedy "Buster Brown's Holiday," with its wealth of new and handsome costumes, "show girls," scenery and the funny antics of Buster Brown and his dog, Tige. No end of expense has been incurred to make this the comedy of comedies. The play as most every theatregoer knows abounds in laugh after laugh and it seems a settled fact, this attraction will not lack for patronage.

Prices, 25, 50, 75c and $1.00.

THE WARNING BELL

"The Warning Bell," the splendid attraction which is offered the patrons of the Grand, Friday, Sept. 21, is written on a pastoral line but contains many novel and startling situations, and extraordinarily thrilling climaxes. The story is written around a beautiful country girl, who goes away to a boarding school, and who is led astray by the inevitable villain, whose game is to rob the rich father, by working on him through her. The first act shows the quaint old farm house and introduces many entertaining country characters. The second act shows the interior of the magnificent gambling palace in New York, where the child and her mother are held prisoners and from which they make their thrilling escape. Act third depicts a faithful reproduction of the famous Grace church during an evening service. The heroine is about to be taken to jail on a trumped-up charge of theft made against her by a pal of the villain, when the young village parson—to whom she had plighted her love as a girl—appears upon the scene and saves her. The past act is back on the farm. The husband has been shot during a daring attempt at escape from prison. The village parson marries her eventually, and the remainder of her life is happy. The play is one of intense heart interest, and it has a vein of excellent comedy through it also. The different characters are drawn from life, and the artists who impersonate them are well known and clever. Prices, 15, 25, 35, 50c.

THE COUNTY CHAIRMAN.

George Ade's brightest comedy and his most successful one, "The County Chairman," presented by one of the biggest dramatic companies, will be the attraction at the Grand, Saturday, Sept. 22, and the announcement of its coming should delight theatre-goers in eager expectation. It is useless to dwell upon the merits of "The County Chairman" for the critics of New York, Chicago, Boston and others of the larger cities of the North and middle west have added, without a dissenting opinion, bright flowers to the crown of success the piece now so gracefully wears. It is a matter of theatrical history that "The County Chairman" enjoyed long and prosperous runs, in these cities and it has now become a matter of record that it has been pronounced the best of all the Ade creations, although there are some brilliant stars that still mark the firmament and for the rise of which that clever humorist, by the name of Ade, is merrily responsible.

The company that will be seen in the play here is a splendid one, headed by Theodore Babcock and sixty people will be seen on the stage. A sixty foot car loaded with elaborate scenery is carried by the company. Prices, 25, 50, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50.

A TRIP TO EGYPT.

That big time killer and blues dispeller, "A Trip to Egypt," that we have read so much about when playing the larger cities, is coming to the Grand on Monday, Sept. 24. There is no one that loves a world of fun, pretty girls, funny comedians and fine scenic display that can afford to miss seeing this big, rollicking, musical farce comedy and to those who wish to see nothing but the best we heartily recommend "A Trip to Egypt" as one of the banner bookings. This uproariously funny farce comedy was written by C. Herbert Kerr, who also wrote "The Beauty Doctor," "Over the Fence," "Papa's Baby," "Mar Bubbles," etc., and Mr. Kerr calls "A Trip to Egypt" his very best work in the comedy and musical line. The entire production is first class in every particular and no pains of expense have been spared in making this production complete in every detail. The piece is played by one of the highest salaried casts that have ever appeared in our city and with a superb production, a large chorus and ballet of pretty girls we are sure that nothing will be found wanting to any auditor who is fortunate enough to attend. Prices, 25, 50, 75c, $1.00.

"ISLE OF SPICE"

The "Isle of Spice" recently seen here, and which has been titled by ardent admirers "a piquant musical mixture," and is under the direction of B. C. Whitney, will be presented at the Grand, Tuesday, Sept. 25, with identically the same cast and scenic production that characterized it on its former engagement. The book and lyrics are by Allen Lowe and George E. Stoddard and the music by Paul Schindler and Ben M. Jerome, and the performance will be under the direction of Gus Sohler. One of the most striking features of the "Isle of Spice" is said to be the superb stage effects produced by Mr. Sohler which are reported to be absolutely unique in treatment and have certainly brought this young man much distinction. The company is a large one, consisting of half a hundred people, the principals being Leslie Leigh, Alice Holt, Minnie Chamberlain, Beulah Hamilton, Mary Orth, Grace Muir, W. J. McGraw, Jack Leslie, John Mylie, Harry Griffith, F. Chas. Deagon, Bert Wainwright, and the famous hard working little ponies that added so much to the musical numbers when it was seen here before. Prices, 25, 50, 75, $1.00 and $1.50.

The new Grand announces for Wednesday, Sept. 19, "Buster Brown's Holiday," the new and up to date cartoon comedy. We have all learned to love and know the funny little boy that the New York Herald created for the fun page. Buster has lively music, melodious songs, pretty girls, fine choruses and no end of humorous creations and situations, and it will be presented here in all its splendor.

The central figure in "The County Chairman" is the political bear of the district, "Jim Hackler," who was nominated for office by his law partner "Tillford Wheeler," a manly young lawyer. The opposing candidate for prosecuting attorney is "Judge Rigby," a close fistled land shark and the bitterness of the campaign brings about an estrangement of young Wheeler and the Judge's daughter, who have been secretly betrothed paign. Finally, though four acts prior to the beginning of the campaign of pictorial movement and surprise, Hackler wins the campaign for Wheeler and the lovers are united. In the interpretation of "The County Chairman" a specially selected company is enlisted, including Theodore Babcock and Thos. J. Grady.

The manager of Buster Brown's Holiday" company has spent a fortune on the production and the theatrical world have freely voted it to be a "sure cure for the blues." Has your boy or girl received one of the funny Buster Brown books yet? No? Then tell him to get one at the theatre where the attraction will play and he will be delighted.

The costumes in "The Warning Bell" have been carefully studied and selected on the spot, and the wonderful mechanical and electrical effects of store, moonlight, etc. have been carefully reproduced from nature, studied and copied on the spot. Nothing has been omitted.

Tinder Boxes.

A man was buying a camping outfit. The dealer, as he packed the camp stove, said:

"And I shall add a tinder box as well."

"A tinder box?" exclaimed the camper. "Of course not. I am after camp things, not curios."

"Campers, explorers and big game hunters, nevertheless, often include a tinder box among their luggage," said the dealer. "A tinder box is cumbersome, troublesome, old fashioned, that can't be denied, but it is reliable. In a damp climate, in a flood, where matches may go back on you, a tinder box will never fail."

"There is a regular trade in tinder boxes, and there is a town in England, the town of Brandon, that devotes itself wholly to the manufacture of gun flints and tinder box flints. These antique devices are sold in the most remote parts of Spain and Italy, and, as I said before, explorers, campers and big game hunters often include them in their outfit."

Care of the Nostrils.

According to a common sense physician much of the catarrh and so called cold in the head from which those living in large towns suffer is due directly to the dust which inevitably lodges in the nasal passages while on the city streets and against which no precautions are taken. The membrane which lines the nostrils, he says, is of a highly sensitive nature. The dust and grime irritate this tender surface.

They also tend to stop up the nasal passages by accumulating there, and this obstruction with many persons passes as catarrh. In reality it is nothing more or less than lack of cleanliness and sanitation. At least twice a day the nostrils should be carefully cleansed with a soft rag and warm water. If this is done immediately after coming in from the street so much the better, as in that way the dust particles will have less time to irritate the delicate membrane.—Philadelphia Press.

Noise and Let ers.

Tenor (singing)—Oh, 'appy, 'appy, 'appy be thy dreams." Professor—Stop! stop! Why don't you sound the "h"? Tenor—It don't go no higher than the "h".—Christian Register.
